

The Tia Tradition

By Shomit Sirohi

Introduction

Tia meets Bai Chami, such stories – Tadana and his friends, Ilaan and his girlfriends, all of us sitting in Christmas housing and crouching in Batachi, which is ascending in Tia chi-ma.

I. The Old Professor in a Small House in Thailand – Recently

In fact there is an old professor, Tadanane, who then is also called Tadana, which then is the small gesture of chocolate cake and coffee which he mixes in his kitchen which other people arrive for in his house, which has a café, or a room. In fact then he is a magical realist, he even performs a violin song with dancing around it, and is pictured in the New York paper list, of the worst actors list, for which he became famous – a story of him being listed as a criminal in fact in a American black actor's case when he was growing up. In fact then, the first time Jerome visited him, he was busy lightening up his computer and house towards sound of rain and rain weather following that Ilaan he met in the dance bar, where he laughed with Riani which was how much fun it was to live Nirvana. In fact Ilaan was busy outside feeling the rain.

II. In Monero's House in Southern Pattaya Beach and in Phi Phi Islands

In fact from Bangkok to Phi Phi Islands via in fact the Pattaya beach, the shopping was done in metaphysics, he was perceiving the whole thing as a Buddhist, he perceived it at night, which then during the day was scooter travelling Zen traditions with the set of Buddhist monks all hanging out in cheaper Phi Phi we mean. Ilaan met his lovers and Belano in a shop where they were writing down medicine for the emancipation of these Bhikkus – at night they fell silent and followed Kant and radio.

III. Borges and Belano with Alenette and Alain, even Ilaan

All of us were with Dalai Lama, how beautiful is life, when in fact the whole meaning of travel is to be busy working on the medicines and metaphysics – there was also a night when the whole room went into musical celebrations – I cannot reveal how this is Buddhism – it is just the opposite – a man was in Bangkok chi-ba-chi housing store which then was a night light in Pen Ek's curation of interior design and life is this virtual.
